

SQUIRE STYLE FAKES

All the locks below were made to look like the padlocks made by Squire lock co. of England. All but one use a barrel style of key. In England they are called pipe keys.

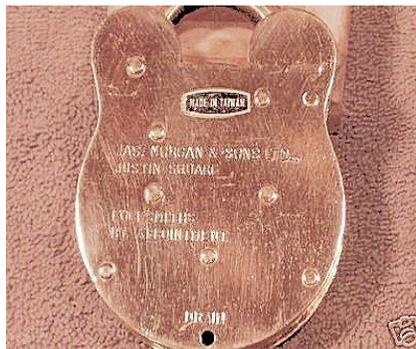

These fantasy locks, (suppose to look like), were most likely made in the Taiwan. As you can see in the last picture the "Made in Taiwan" sticker is still on the back of a padlock.

You will find that there are 6 different stampings on the backs of these locks. All but the two smaller locks will have either ADMIRALTY or FEDERAL stamped under the key number on the front of the locks.

The padlocks with the word PRISON and U.S. GENERAL are smaller in size, they are only 2 inches wide by 3 inches tall, compares to all the others at 2 3/4 inches wide by 3 3/4 inches tall.

The little tag near the top of the lock says “MADE IN TAIWAN”
